

Restorative Practices

Focusing on Relationship Building

(For Teachers and Administrators)

Join Rufus Lott III for an in-depth look into Restorative Practices as he explains tools for implementation and how to lead a campus that puts relationships at the center of every interaction. Restorative Practices have quickly become among the most utilized tools to effectively empower educators to build and sustain meaningful relationships with students in schools. Come learn about outside the box approaches to hold students accountable when relationships break down without over-utilizing exclusionary consequences.
