

A UDL-IRN Regional Event Designing for Equity and Achievement for ALL Learners

December 9th & 10th
with post-con on 11th

at the

University of Central Florida
4221 Andromeda Loop
Orlando, FL 32816

We put learners at the center of the educational experience. This event allows for the discovery of how the UDL framework can help design flexible learning opportunities and environments to address the cultural and learning needs of students.

Group registration rates are available.

Space is limited - reserve your seat now!

Join your colleagues from around the region to explore how Universal Design for Learning can help you create a welcoming, responsive, student-centered classroom that cultivates expert learners. Day one will be a day of featured speaker presentations, breakout sessions, panels, and networking to support your understanding of UDL as it pertains to designing for equity and achievement for all learners. Day two will be a deeper dive into the content and give you the opportunity to meet with experts to help you develop your personal implementation plans.

Take a deeper dive with Universal Design for Learning!

Day 1, Monday, December 9th, 2019

Focus on UDL implementation from the perspective of designing for equity and achievement for all learners, including:

- Designing to overcome gaps
- District report cards
- Literacy and UDL
- And more!

Other highlights include:

- Breakout and small group sessions with national speakers, implementers from the state of Florida
- School-wide implementation planning

Day 2, Tuesday, December 10th, 2019

Day two extends day one with a focus on UDL implementation and will feature UDL Talks from local practitioners. Regional coaches and national leaders from the UDL-IRN will return to support attendees with the design of implementation plans.

The day's format will be based on:

- UDL implementation tools and resources for attendees.
- UDL planning: Work with national and regional leaders to design your team's action plan.

Day 3, Wednesday, December 11th, 2019 (Post-con)

Field Trip to the Future ($20)

Join us on an exciting trip to the future! We will board our luxury transport (bus) and begin our journey with a visit to PSI High, a Project-Based Learning high school in Seminole County. We then transition to The UCF Institute for Simulation and Training, an internationally recognized research institute focused on advancing human-centered modeling and simulation technology and increasing our understanding of simulation's role in training and education. This event will give you an opportunity to experience UDL principles in action and view innovative technologies.

CORE Credential Session ($60)

Move beyond the "why" of UDL and into a deeper exploration of the essential components of any learning environment or experience designed with UDL in mind. Join us for a dive into the Learning Designed CORE Credential. Hosted by Toni Jennings Exceptional Education Institute.
