Do you have students who experience sensory difficulties?

Do you have students who seem to over react or under respond to stimuli?

Do you have students that seem to be unaware of their physical space?

Are you curious to know how the sensory systems affect learning and behavior?

If you answered "Yes" to any of these questions, then this training is for you! In this 1-hour, interactive session, you will learn about the 7 sensory systems and receive resources for how to help students of all ages who may experience sensory system challenges.
