

YOUNG ENGINEERS SCIENCE SUMMER CAMP

Ideal for Budding Scientists and Engineers!

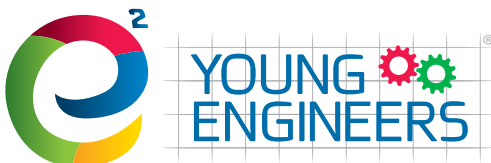

The Young Engineers Tallahassee Science Camp provides children with a fun and exciting way to explore and learn about science and engineering principles during their camp experience - through play!

The camp is for both boys and girls from Kindergarten to 8th grade.

Each day will be packed with a combination of activities including building with LEGO[®] and other construction toys, materials, and technology to build moving models, arts and craft activities and outdoor play (weather permitting). Children will also learn to code and build robots. They will also take part in group projects to develop life-long skills including problem solving, teamwork, presentation, and communication to name just a few.

Morning sessions will be spent constructing and engineering moving LEGO[®] models using our unique Young Engineers Kits. The afternoon sessions will focus on team challenges and problem-solving using a range of materials.

Children are required to bring a packed lunch
